Part 3

Emily is reading an article about oil spills.

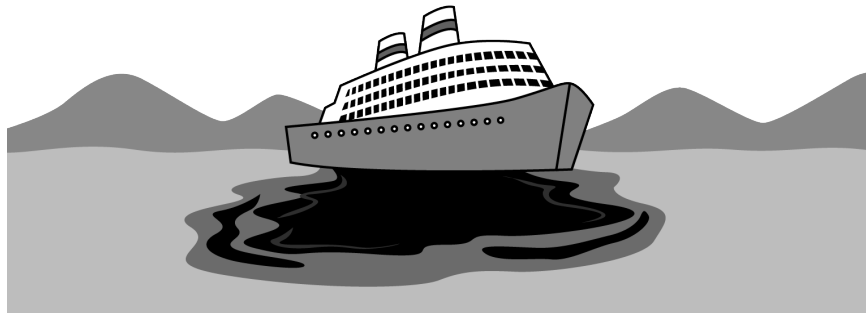

Read the article.

Oil Spills

Early last month, a ship was hit by a heavy storm near Lantau Island. Its oil spilt into the sea. Many birds and fish were found dead near the area. More work and more time are still needed to clean up all the spilt oil. Unfortunately, this type of accident happens quite often around the world.

Oil spills can be disastrous. When animals have oil on their fur or feathers, they cannot stay warm. Also, birds covered in oil cannot fly or see well. Oil spills cause problems for people too. This is because the spilt oil pollutes the water. People who drink polluted water can get sick easily.

People around the world have tried to use different ways to clean up oil spills. Some use special materials to stop the oil from spreading, but these materials may pollute the sea. Others set fire to the oil that floats on the sea surface. However, this produces a scary amount of black smoke and damages the environment. Therefore, to protect the environment, we should try our best to prevent oil spills.

Emily is reading a story.

Read the first part of the story. Answer Questions 1 – 5.

Percy loved going to the forest. One day, he found a tree that was weak as a kitten. He was worried about it, so he went to water it every day. Slowly, the tree became stronger and healthier.

1

One afternoon, Percy found something shiny on the ground and was surprised by it. It was a beautiful golden leaf.

5

‘Keep it,’ a voice said. ‘Thank you for saving me. I’m a magic tree. Make a wish with this golden leaf and your wish will come true.’

Then, Percy put the leaf in his pocket. On his way home, he took it out to have a look.

A greedy farmer saw Percy’s leaf. He said, ‘I can’t believe the golden leaf exists! I thought The Story of the Magic Tree was unreal. I must secretly follow him tomorrow. I need to know where the tree is! After cutting it down, I can get all the leaves!’
